Notes(a): Josiah Moore of New Hartford Ct., when he moved to Fabius, N.Y., bought Lot 15 - which is just west of the present village of Fabius. He and Timothy Jerome were the first settlers in the section; Josiah's son Charles b. 1794 was the first child born in the region; and the first death was that of Josiah Moore in 1802. This Lot 15 had been alloted to Thomas Bunting, soldier in 2d N.Y. Regiment for service in the Revolution. He sold it to Moses Phillips of Ulster Co. for "25 Spanish milled dollars" who first leases it to Josiah Moore Jr. 24 Sept. 1793 for 1 yr. for 25 shillings, and then on 25 Sept. 1793, Josiah contracts to buy the land for "150 £ lawful money of the state of N.Y." This parcel of land in the Township of Fabius contained 600 acres, but there was reserved in the S.E. corner, 100 acres for the people of the state (for school purposes) also 5 acres per 100 to be laid out in public highway, and "such other exceptions and reservations and conditions contained in Letters Patent-". This land was then "in the county of Herkimer, late montgomery". This was filed 13 Apr. 1795. It is found at Syracuse in Onondaga Co. Clerk's office. One record in that office states "Josiah Moore's begins on west line of Lot 15, 10 chains and 24 links S. of N.W. corner of lot." After Josiah's death, the land was partitioned (1810-12). Of Lot 15, there were 412 acres because 100 was "States 100", 50 acres in N.E. corner was out and 38 acres on south side also out. John had 52 acres in S.W. section; the widow Abigail had as dower about 72 acres and the home. In 1817 this dower was sold I believe to son Charles with right of use reserved for life to Abigail and her second husband - John Middlebrook. In 1817-19, sons Henry and John sold to their brother Charles for $85 each, their right in the dower which amounted to 11 3/4 acres + 10 rods. land each. Apr. 6, 1836 recorded 1839, Charles and Hannah grant to Wm Frink (husband of Charles half-sister Eliza) for $1000 this homesite with reservation of use by Abigail and John Middlebrook during life of either. [John Middlebrook died 25 Aug. 1836].
In 1850 U.S. census of Fabius, it looked to me as if Charles and wife Mary were on the homesite (from neighbors) Compare map 1860. (Charles died in Hamilton N.Y. 1862 - hence had probably moved when map was made)

Trip to Fabius may 31, 1937 by A.H. & A.A. Wright - Josiah moore farm. Lot 15. We jotted the following:

" On a N-S road just west of Fabius village, old lot 15 extended from hilltops on the west across lowland and swamp to the first N-S street of the village proper. At present there are two farmhouses on the farm near the old home-site and several across the lowlands on the east side of the lot on another road. A third on the southern edge shown in the old atlas is now gone (the Cleveland house.) Anson Rowley died in the the second house northward (this the old Moore site) Hiram Rowley lived in the first house. Today Anson Rowley's son Bernard Rowley, Supervisor of Fabius owns the Anson Rowley Farm. H.D. Skeele owns the Hiram Rowley farm, but at present rents and lives in the Anson Rowley house. A part at the back of this house is very old. The Hiram Rowley farm is probably the section set off to John moore."

We visited the old cemetery back of First Baptist Church in Fabius village. The cemetery is now full of brambles, but there are fine stones for Josiah Moore, Abigail and John Middlebrook." At a later date - April 5, 1938, we wrote "Cold light snow on the ground. We visited Fabius on our way from Syracuse by way of Oran and Pompey. Best went into the churchyard where Josiah Moore is buried. With the vegetation down from winter, he found 3 graves we didn't see before. Charles Moore who died in Hamilton, Rev. Henry Moore son of Charles & Hannah and one prostrate one he couldn't read."

Found on an old paper of Aunt Marion's (the notation may be from Aunt Louise) "Visited the Fabius cemetery 1884 Summer saw graves of Josiah moore who came to Fabius in 1794 or 92, died in 1802; of John Middlebrook and (Diana) Abigail Dewey Moore Middlebrook; Grandmother Moore who died 65 years old". This last grave we have not found unless it be the one mentioned above that we could not read. Perhaps the stone is down and now deeply overgrown. Grandmother Moore must be Mary Lerana Middlebrook Moore who died in Fabius, Feb. 1, 1854.

Notes: d) John Middlebrook was second husband of (Maria) Abigail Dewey Moore. John Middlebrook is listed Moore 21 with Revolutionary soldiers of Onondaga Co. N.Y. by Rev. W. M. Beauchamp, who wrote: "With his wife this pensioner rests in the old cemetery, Fabius village. He applied in 1831, age 68, differing from stone. Conn. militia, but not in rolls."
Council of Appointment. Military Records 1784-1821 says:
p. 772. Onondaga Co. 1805. Lieut. Col. Thomas Olcott's reg, John Middlebrook, paymaster,
p. 832 " " 1806 " " " " " vice-paymaster John Middlebrook moved. (probably when he moved from Pompey to Fabius. a a w.)

He had land in Lot 64 which is at Pompey Hill. We find in Onondaga Co. Clerks office at Syracuse;
In 1814 Abigail and John Middlebrook sell to H. W. Sloovers. July 25, 1814 for $ 280 Land in town of Pompey. Beginning N.W. corner of land now occupied by Wm Andrus running S.E. on Andrus line 13 rds. to creek, thence N.W. 13 rds to center of highway thence South on center of highway to place of beginning, 52 rods of grounds. part of Lot 64.

Grandfather Moore (George Augustus Moore 1814-1890) Fannie Hawkins writes me that grandfather came to Buffalo as a boy of 14, walking from Tully, looking for a job. That would be in 1828. Aunt Marion's notes say that he came to Buffalo in December 1835. His uncle A.C. Moore had come in 1831. When he was first married he lived in a small brick house on Elk st. and later built a much larger brick house next door 243 Elk st. At that time, Swan and Elk streets were Buffalo's fine residence streets. Grandfather's principal business was that of Cheese merchant and we always said that his monument in Forest Lawn was a cheese box on its side with the Odd-Fellows Links at the top. He started his business in 1848 when cheeses were made on individual farms, before the days of the "Cheese factory". He travelled through the country testing and buying cheeses, and the farmers delivered them to 65 Main st. Here they were further cured, being rubbed and turned each day. A large proportion were shipped to New York. There was the storeroom on the third floor, a living apartment on the second, and offices and salesroom on the first. Theodore lived in the apartment for a while and then Fred was there for a time. The cheese business which was a wholesale one must have been profitable as grandfather was able to take out of it $ 2000 for each boy as he started out and also to set up Aunt Louise's husband. Theodore Sage in Pharmacy business when he started in Minnesota. John had Naval Training at Annapolis and the other boys had business training at Bryant and Strattons in Buffalo. Grandfather went out of business in the early 70's though he was in business with Chesley for a short time having a commission business on Scott st. near the market.

Notes: (e) Grandfather Moore - (cont.) Then followed a few lean years of the 70's when grandfather held minor jobs and the 4 youngest girls were attending Normal school. In fact he had a hard time finding something to do. He was tall and fine looking, and being distinguished in appearance and having had a prosperous independent business, people would not believe him serious when he sought a secondary position. He served as night watchman for a time and also as door-man at a nearby police station, and grandmother had boarders for a period at about the time Aunt Louise came home to stay with her little boy John. The first boarder was a man named Volk who was lame, worked near the 8th Street house and couldn't get back and forth to upstown easily. At times there were as many as five boarders. Perhaps they didn't seem many to grandmother as so many of her family had set out for themselves, Aunt Louise soon taught school in South Buffalo and Aldridge Farm. "The Little Giant." In the fall of '69, a big cheese was made on some farm for a fair to be held in Buffalo. Curd from all the surrounding farms was put into the cheese and it was called "The Little Giant." A little silver tube smaller than a lead pencil section and containing an order for a diamond ring was put into the cheese, which was cut into five pound pieces at the close of the fair and sold. Grandfather paid for his box to be called for at the close of the fair. On Thanksgiving Day, grandfather remarked "Well boys, hadn't we better have our "Little Giant" to cut for dinner?" The boys called for it and Louise and Loraine ran knitting needles through it but did not find the silver tube. It was put away for table use and Aunt Carrie and mother ate it as lunch when they home from school. One day they brought out the "Little Giant" and when they cut it - Oh! Oh! Oh! Ah! the knife hit the silver cylinder. They took it upstairs immediately to Mrs. Haywood, scarce able to hold their breath. He said he must cross the street where it was in a safe. They waited and waited, their faces grew longer and longer, their hearts sank lower and lower. They thought he would never come, but finally he did and said he couldn't find the ring. They had it, had taken it out of the safe and laid it on the counter, but just couldn't find it that minute but would bring it down to the house. Slowly the girls walked home, afraid he was putting them off and that they wouldn't have the ring. But later he appeared at the house and told them. the puppy who the safe was had gotten the ring box and carried it off. They had found it in the ashes or rubbish. The ring was large and flashy so that no one could wear it and finally grandfather sold it and accepted 5-$50 library bonds for it. They cut the coupons each fall and used the $12 for car tickets to take Aunt Carrie and mother to Normal. Later they used the bonds to buy sewing machines for Aunt Carrie & mother and a life memberships in the library association.

Notes: (f) Mother finished public school in '69. Had 1 yr. in high school, finished Normal in '74 with the first large class graduated, taught school in Gowanda - then in Hamburg where she met father, teaching in all 4 yrs. She spent 78-79 at home before she was married. Aunt Carrie taught 1 year. She started in District 4 in the highest grade, but became sick and dropped out and then went to Hamburg in the middle of the year. When the girls graduated George and Fred came to Buffalo to take them to the reception at Mr. Steele's house on Delaware Ave. Carrie was to teach in Buffalo and only one of a family could have a job in the city so mother went home with Fred and got a job in Gowanda. The railroad hadn't reached Gowanda when mother started to teach but was finished while she was there. This railroad was called Buffalo and Jamestown; was built by Mr. Adams, went through Hamburg. It ran for a time as far as Hamburg while they extended the line further. The Erie bought it later.

The Plank Road: Because of his frequent trips through the country in buying cheeses, grandfather felt the need of better roads and in the 50's became president of the Plank Rd. Association that built a road from Buffalo to Hamburg. It was a double width road but only the left hand side from Buffalo was planked. It came in across the railroad tracks, beginning at Elk st. There were 2 toll gates; the first at the bridge across Buffalo Creek and the other at Father Hines. Grandfather bought the farm, later sold to Aldridge and located in South Buffalo where Aldridge street now is, as a woodland and had a saw mill there to cut planks for the road. Josiah Moore came to run the saw mill. The road was finished about 1858-60. Fred and Norman worked the farm there for a time raising fruit, berries, vegetables and they tried raising tobacco. (this last a fancy because grandfather's Uncle Henry had a large tobacco plantation in Ky.) The family often drove out to this farm and mother remembers Aunt Alice being carried out as a little baby on a pillow because she was not a sturdy child. Norman was to be married in Nov. 1865, and the farm was being fenced for him to live there, but grandfather had an offer of $10,000 for the farm and Norman said "Let it go". This they did and Norman settled for a on Concord Hill; first on the "Hickok Farm", then on the "Wm Adams farm.

Mother recently told these stories to me again and I have written them down for you.
